

Reuse Translations for Standard Messaging and Survey Controls

For each language translation you provide for your survey respondents you'll need to translate the standard messaging and survey controls, such as, the Next and Back buttons, required and validation errors.

The image shows a survey question in Spanish. At the top, there is a red error message: "Se requiere esta pregunta". Below this, the question text reads "1. Please enter your age: *". Underneath the question is a text input field with a light blue border and rounded corners.

This can be pretty time consuming, that's why if you've already translated standard messaging in a survey, we've built the ability to reuse these standard messages.

Take advantage this tool when adding a new language to your survey. Go to Tools > Text & Translations and click Add Language. Choose your language and select Yes for the option to Copy standard messaging for this language from an existing project. A search box will appear where you can type in the name or ID of the survey with the translated elements and click Add Language. Et voila! All your standard message translations will copy over, saving you tedious data entry time!

Add a New Language

* Choose a language

Spanish (United States)

How would you like to setup your translation?

Translate Manually

Import Translated Fields

Copy standard messaging for this language from an existing project?

No Yes

Which survey would you like to copy from?

search by name or ID

Never Mind

Add Language

Related Articles

[template("related")]