

Create an Admin-Only Survey Page

Like Administrative Questions, Admin-Only Pages are not visible to the respondent but are, instead, available within the response for survey administrators.

- You can include Admin-Only pages throughout your survey.
- You can add them at any point in the survey cycle, even after data has been collected!

Admin-Only Pages are particularly useful when using SurveyGizmo for evaluations, job applications, lead generation, etc. For example, you could add an Admin-Only Page to a job application that would give you the ability to give the applicant an overall rank, or rank them in certain areas of the application or even track their progress in the interview process.

Set Up a Page as Admin-Only

1. Click the pencil icon above the top-right corner of the page to access the page settings.

2. Scroll to the Admin-Only Page section and toggle it to Yes.

The screenshot shows the 'Edit Page' interface with a dark blue header containing the title 'Edit Page' and navigation tabs for 'Page', 'Logic', 'Layout', and 'Repeat'. Below the header, there are two text input fields: 'Page Title' containing 'Administrative Page' and 'Page Description' which is empty. Underneath these fields are two sets of radio buttons. The first set, labeled 'Disable Page', has 'Yes' unselected and 'No' selected. The second set, labeled 'Admin-Only Page', has 'Yes' selected and 'No' unselected. This second set is enclosed in a red rectangular box.

3. Once a page has been set as an Admin-Only Page, it will be indicated on the Build tab.

Using/Answering Admin-Only Pages

The process for answering questions that are located on Admin-Only pages is the same the process for single admin questions.
